WELDING

At HM&T, we are dedicated to providing top-notch welding and fabrication solutions for all your needs. With our extensive experience and expertise, we offer a wide range of welding services to cater to diverse industries and projects. Whether you require MIG, TIG, or ARC welding, or even custom plasma cutting, we have you covered.

OUR SERVICES

When it comes to custom fabrication, HM&T is your go-to partner. We specialize in creating tailor-made solutions to meet your specific requirements. Our expertise extends to the fabrication of brackets, plates, and components for various applications. From staircase products to electrical enclosures and machine assemblies, we have the knowledge and craftsmanship to bring your ideas to life.

In addition to our welding capabilities, HM&T excels in repairs and maintenance services. We understand the importance of keeping your equipment and structures in optimal condition. Our skilled technicians can handle everything from routine factory maintenance, such as platforms, crossovers, and railings, to heavy equipment repairs. Trust us to restore functionality and durability to your valuable assets.
